WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1732.

Seville, Nov. 1. N. S.

THE Governor of Ceuta has ſent Advice to this Court, that the Moors, ſince they were defeated the ſeventeenth of laſt Month, have not appeared or made any Attempt upon the Out-Poſts of that Fortreſs; ſo that every thing remained in the former Condition, fit to reſiſt the utmoſt Efforts of the Infidels. The Moors before Oran alſo continue very quiet, the Governor of which Place ſtill preſerves all the Out-Poſts, and is upon his Guard not to be ſurprized by the Enemy, keeping ſufficient Force to defend the Caſtles and other Outworks there.

Madrid, Nov. 3. N. S. The King, who was for ſome time indiſpoſed, has ſince admitted to Audience the Count de Rottemburg, Ambaſſador of France. We hear from Oran, that the Moors had begun the Siege of that Place with two Camps; one commanded by Bigotillo, late Governor of that Place; and the other by the Son of the late Dey of Algiers: That the Marquis de Santa Cruz having detached 2500 Men of his Garriſon to ſupport and introduce a Convoy into the Fort of Santa Cruz, the ſame had been attacked by the Infidels; and that the Action was very ſharp, and carried on with great Obſtinacy on both Sides; but that the Spaniards having fixed their Bayonets to their Pieces, obliged the latter to betake themſelves to Flight, after having had 1200 of their Men killed upon the Spot, which faciliated the Convoy's entering the aforeſaid Fort, the Breaches whereof, made ſome days before by the Moors, were immediately repaired, and put into the former Condition. 'Tis added, that the Moors had ſome days after made themſelves Maſters of a conſiderable Poſt not far from the Sea-Side; of which, however, they were again ſoon diſpoſſeſſed by the Cannon of ſome Spaniſh Men of War that arrived from Alicant; and that the Enemy's Artillery was in a very bad Condition. They write from Algiers, that the new Dey had aſſembled a Divan, wherein he deſired Succours for the Continuance of the Siege of Oran; but that moſt of the Principal Men of that Regency had flatly denied his Requeſt; alledging, that the Undertaking of that Siege was precarious and impracticable as long as they had not a ſufficient Naval Force at hand to hinder the continual Succours the Spaniards are able to throw into that Place. The Marquis de Santa Cruz has acquainted the Court, that he had formed a Deſign to attack the Enemy in their Trenches, as ſoon as he has received the Succours expected from Barcelona and Alicant; being in great hopes of forcing them to break up their Camps. We have Advice from Barcelona, that the great Convoy of 6000 Men, with a great Quantity of Proviſions and Ammunition, was ready to ſail for the Coaſt of Africa. The Court having been credibly informed, that ſome Chriſtian Ships were carrying all Sorts of Proviſions and Ammunition to Africa, for the Service of the Infidels, Orders have been given to equip forthwith nine Men of War, to cruize along the Coaſts of Africa, and intercept all Veſſels that go to the Enemy upon that Account.

Cartagena, Nov. 5. N. S. The firſt Reinforcement of Troops and Ammunition ſent to Oran, is, we hear, arrived there; and tho' the Moors have ſuſtained conſiderable Loſſes in the ſeveral Attacks they have made upon the Caſtles of St. Philip and Santa Cruz, they have nevertheleſs made a ſecond Attempt upon the latter, which they attacked and ſcaled with much Fury, but were repulſed with great Loſs, after a ſharp and fierce Engagement.

Baſil, Nov. 19. N. S. We are aſſured, that the Differences ſubſiſting between the Holy See and the Court of Rome will ſhortly be made up in an amicable manner.

Vienna, Nov. 19. N. S. On Sunday laſt, the Fireworks prepared at the Expence of the Magiſtrates of this City, were play'd off by way of Rejoicing for their Imperial Majeſties ſafe Return from their laſt Progreſs in Bohemia and Upper Auſtria. The Imperial Family repaired this Morning, after having been at Divine Service in the Aulick Chappel, to the great Dining-Hall, where the Grandees and Nobility of both Sexes, apparelled in the moſt magnificent Habits, paid their Compliments to his Imperial Majeſty, it being St. Charles's Day: His Highneſs the Duke of Lorrain was one of the Number. Yeſterday 17 Cheſts filled with Medicines, and accompanied with ſix Phyſicians and 30 Surgeons, were ſent to Hungary, to ſtop the Progreſs of the Peſtilential Diſtemper in that Kingdom: Beſides which, the neceſſary Meaſures have been taken, to check that Diſtemper, which began to appear among the Sheep and Horned Cattle. A Marriage has been concluded between the Count d'Althan, one of the Emperor's Lords of the Bedchamber, with the Counteſs of Bromnitt. The Count de Metch, Vice-Preſident of the Aulick Council of the Empire, being recovered of his Indiſpoſition, diſpatches Buſineſs again as before, and ſees Company. To-morrow Morning the Imperial Family goes to Medlingen to hunt the Wild Boar, and afterwards dines at Luxemburg.

Lucern, Nov. 20. N. S. Large Sums of Money have been remitted hither from Spain, for the new Levies to be made within the Roman-Catholick Cantons, for the King of Spain's Service.

Geneva, Nov. 21. N. S. 'Tis written from Turin, that a Solemn Funeral Service for the deceaſed King Victor-Amadeus had been performed in the Church belonging to the Court, at which the Royal Family and the whole Court appeared in the deepeſt Mourning. During that Service eighty Cannon were fired off; as were alſo the Small Arms of the Soldiers garriſoned there. 'Tis added, that the River Po had overflowed its Banks to ſuch a Degree, that ſeveral Tracts of Land continue under Water.

Hanover, Nov. 21. N. S. On the 15th inſtant, Prince William of Heſſe proceeded on his Journey to Caſſel, where he arrived the day before yeſterday, having ſeveral times upon the Road diverted himſelf with Hunting, prepared on purpoſe for his Highneſs's Entertainment. That Prince, upon his Arrival at Caſſel, was immediately waited upon and complimented by the principal Heſſian Nobility and other Perſons of Diſtinction, to whom he could not ſufficiently commend the great Honours and Marks of Reſpect he received from the Swediſh Nation in general, who, according to all outward Appearance, ſeem to be very much attached to his Highneſs, and inclined to place him upon the Throne of that Kingdom, in caſe of the preſent King his Brother's Deceaſe. His Highneſs no leſs extolled the kind and affectionate Reception he met with from the Ducheſs Dowager of Mecklemburg, his Siſter, at Barzow, as alſo from Duke Chriſtian Lewis of Mecklemburg, and in particular the great Regard that was ſhewn for his Perſon in this City, by the ſpecial Command of the King of Great Britain, our Sovereign. The Body of Artillery here has been augmented with ſome Miners; and General Melville has ſent a Liſt to London, containing the Names of the Perſons he lately preſented to the vacant military Poſts; among whom are the four firſt Pages of this Court; and as by that Promotion there are now five Pages wanting, to complete the uſual Number, as many young Noblemen have been nominated to ſupply their Places; his Britannick Majeſty being reſolved to keep up continually the Number of Twenty to be educated at Court, and qualified for military and other Employments in this Electorate, according to their ſeveral Capacities.

Copenhagen, Nov. 22. N. S. The King was yeſterday at the New Holm, to ſee a new Man of War of 80 Guns put upon the Stocks. Forty Houſes were ſome days ago reduced to Aſhes, by a ſudden Fire at Fuerſt in Norway.

Ratisbon, Nov. 24. N. S. The Miniſter of Holland has, upon the Requeſt he made to the Elector of Bavaria and the Biſhop of Paſſau, in behalf of the Emigrants of Dornberg and Berchtolsgaden, received a very favourable Anſwer, whereby thoſe Princes are pleaſed to grant them free Paſſage through Part of their Dominions. They have previouſly obtained Leave from their preſent Sovereign, the Archbiſhop of Saltzburg, to take Water the 29th inſtant at Salza for Paſſau, and to proceed from thence on the Danube to this City, and ſo to Holland. The Bohemians, Auſtrians and Suabians who went into the Dioceſe of Saltzburg, to take the Houſes and Chattels of the Inhabitants of that Archbiſhoprick that left the ſame, and retired into other Countries, having found the labouring Part to earn a Subſiſtence too hard, are returned again to the Places from whence they came. They met with very ſevere Treatment at the bringing in their Books, tho' they were provided with Authentick Certificates from the Roman-Catholick Clergy of their former Places of Abode; and indeed, all Paſſengers without Diſtinction, whether Papiſts or Proteſtants, have lately had their Books ſeized upon the Frontiers of Saltzburg, and have no Hopes of recovering them, without an expreſs Permiſſion of the Archbiſhop for importing them into this Dioceſe.

Bruſſels, Nov. 24. N. S. The 19th inſtant being Feſtival Day at Court, and the Archduchеſs our Governeſs having made a Preſent of a Diamond Hat-band to the Count de Viſconti, nominated to the Vice-Royalty of the Kingdom of Naples, that Miniſter took off his Finger a Diamond-Ring of great Value, and gave it to her Highneſs's Maid of Honour, who took the Pains of fixing the Hat-band on his Excellency's Hat.

Hague, Nov. 24. N. S. The States of Holland and Weſt-Frieſland are to aſſemble to-morrow. According to the Nomination of the Magiſtrates of this City, the ſame are to be continued, only that M. de Rinſhot is conſtituted Preſident Burgomaſter, and M. William Anthony Pieterſon, Preſident of the Schepens.

Mentz, Nov. 25. N. S. The Duke of Saxe-Weymar has received Homage from the ſeveral States of his Dominions. The Court of France having communicated to ſeveral Courts of Europe the Reaſons which induced his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty to decline accepting the Pragmatick Sanction, has received for Anſwer, that the ſaid Pragmatick Sanction was not, according to their Judgment, in the leaſt repugnant to Juſtice and Equity.

Hague, Nov. 27. N. S. The States of Holland and Weſt-Frieſland have this day been in Conference with the Deputies of their High-Mightineſſes; as were the Deputies of the ſeveral Colleges of the reſpective Admiralties of theſe Provinces. His Highneſs the Prince of Naſſau-Orange was this Morning for a conſiderable time with the Preſident of their High-Mightineſſes's Aſſembly. M. de Dieu, who reſided at the Ruſſian Court on the Part of this State, appeared this Morning in their their High-Mightineſſes Aſſembly, and made a Report of the Succeſs of his Negotiations at that Court.

Cleves, Nov. 29. N. S. The Dyet of this Dutchy is ſtill aſſembled, and the States continue their Deliberations upon divers Affairs that lie before them. Count Frederick of Lottum, Lord of Grondſtein, Lieutenant-Colonel of the Regiment of Dragoons of General Sonſveld, and Son of the late Field-Marſhal and Governor-General of the Fortreſs and Citadel of Wezel, has taken the Oaths to qualify himſelf for that Poſt, enjoyed by his late Father, and was admitted ad Seſſionem & Votum among the Nobility of this Dutchy. Letters from Duſſeldorp adviſe, that preſſing Inſtances had been made by a certain great Power at the Palatine Court, that the Eventual Homage of the Dutchies of Berg and Juliers in favour of the Biſhop of Augsburg, Brother to his Electoral Highneſs Palatine, be put off for ſome time; but that all Efforts of that Nature proved in vain, the ſaid Eventual Homage having nevertheleſs taken Effect in the proper Places of the aforeſaid Duchies. Nothing certain can be learnt of the State of Health the Elector Palatine enjoys at preſent; ſome affirming it to be perfect, and others in a very precarious Condition. By our laſt Advices from Vienna, there ſeems to be little Likelihood of a new War between the Perſians and Ottomans, there being a certain Foreign Miniſter at Conſtantinople, who labours very hard to mediate a Peace between thoſe Powerful Monarchies.

Deal, Nov. 27. The outward-bound in my laſt remain, with the Joſeph, Ruſſell, for Bilboa; the Comb Pink, Thompſon, for Briſtol; the Cornwall, Skinner, for Gibraltar. Wind W. N. W.

Maſter of the Ceremonies.

The following pretty Copy of Verſes was written by a young Lady of twelve Years old, the Daughter of a Gentleman conſpicuous for his Rank and Merit: The Occaſion was this; her Brother being buſied in making his School-Exerciſe, ſhe asked him what employed him? which when he told her, ſhe deſired to know, what was meant by an Exerciſe? he anſwered it was to write Verſes: If that be all, ſays ſhe, I'll write ſome for you. To which when he agreed, ſhe asked what he would have her write upon? What but Paper? replied he ſmartly. Her Anſwer and Performance was in the following Lines.

O H, ſpotleſs Paper, fair and white!
On thee by force conſtrain'd to write;
Is it not hard I ſhould deſtroy
Thy Purity, to pleaſe a Boy?
Ungrateful I, thus to abuſe
The faireſt Servant of the Muſe;
Dear Friend, to whom I oft impart
The choiceſt Secrets of my Heart:
Ah, what Attonement can be made
For ſpotleſs Innocence betray'd?
How fair, how lovely, didſt thou ſhow,
Like lily'd Banks, or falling Snow:
But now, alas! become my Prey,
Not Floods can waſh thy Stains away:
Yet this ſmall Comfort can I give,
That, when deſtroy'd, ſhall make thee live.

Yeſterday a Motion was made in the Court of Common Pleas, Weſtminſter, for diſcharging Mrs. Benſon, the Wife of Thomas Benſon Eſq; late Secondary of Wood-ſtreet Compter, out of Cuſtody; into which ſhe was taken upon an Execution illegally obtained againſt her. The Caſe was thus: An Attorney's Clerk being ſent to ſerve her with a Copy of a Writ, found one Mrs. Benſon, a Woman of the Town, who lived in Prince's Street, Drury-Lane; and, having ſerved her, proceeded at Law to an Execution. Several Perſons ſwore, that the Defendant never lodged in that Street; and particularly, that ſhe lodged at another Place at the Time of the Service. And ſhe herſelf ſwore, that ſhe never had any Notice of any Proceedings; and further, that ſhe was a Feme Covert. On the Part of the Plaintiff one William Milward, a Player, made an Affidavit, in order to prove the Defendant a Separate Dealer, as having received a Salary for ſome time from Mr. Rich, as an Actreſs. But, upon arguing the Matter, the Court diſcharged the Execution, with Coſts againſt the Plaintiff.

To-morrow a General Council will be held at St. James's; when the Parliament, which ſtands prorogued to the 5th of December, we hear will be farther prorogued to the 23d of January, when they will ſit to do Buſineſs.

Yeſterday Morning, about One o'Clock, died, at his Houſe at the Poſt-Office, Edward Harriſon Eſq; one of the Poſt-Maſters General, after a ſhort Illneſs; which Place he enjoyed upwards of four Years, and behaved with great Honour and Integrity: He was one of the Directors of the Eaſt-India Company, and Governor of Fort St. George for ſome Years, where he acquired a handſome Fortune, with a fair Character: Soon after his Return to England he was elected Member of Parliament for the Town of Hertford, which on his accepting the Office of Poſt-Maſter General, his Brother the Hon. Col. Harriſon was choſen in his room. We hear he has left by his Will 50,000 l. to the Lady Lynn his Daughter, and to his Lady 2000 l. per Ann. beſides ſeveral other Legacies to his Relations.

Yeſterday being the laſt Day of the Term, ſeveral Printers, Bookſellers, and others, appeared on their Recognizances, at the King's Bench Bar, Weſtminſter, when ſome were diſcharged and others continued. William Rayner was called upon by the Court to receive Judgment, for publiſhing a ſcandalous and ſeditious Pamphlet, entitled Robin's Game; or, Seven's the Main, but did not appear to his Bail.

On Monday Dec. 4, 1732, at Twelve o'Clock, will begin

A COURSE of CHYMISTRY at Greſham-College, to be performed by H. PEMBERTON, M. D. F. R. S. and Profeſſor of Phyſick there.

In this Courſe will be ſhewn and explained all the Furnaces and Veſſels uſeful in Chymiſtry, particularly the Furnace called Athanor, for containing an equable Degree of Heat any Length of Time without Intermiſſion, and with ſmall Attendance; alſo Vigani's Extempore Furnaces compoſed of looſe Bricks only, and to be ſet up and taken down at Pleaſure, wherewith all the Operations of Chymiſtry may be commodiouſly performed by thoſe who have not a fixed Laboratory. And in this Courſe will be ſhewn not only thoſe Operations by which all the chymical Medicines in Uſe are prepared, but likewiſe many curious Experiments from Mr. Boyle and others; the Uſe of Chymiſtry in the ſeveral Trades whoſe Works depend upon the Principles of this Art; in particular the Method of ſmelting and refining Metals, both with Charcoal and Sea Coal, and making Eſſays. The Whole will be delivered in ſuch an Order, as from the Explanation of the Proceſſes it may beſt appear, what Alterations are gradually produced in the Subſtances wrought upon, and thereby may be moſt eaſily underſtood what Improvements that have been, or may be made, in Natural Philoſophy by the Help of Chymiſtry.

Thoſe who deſign to attend this Courſe, are deſired to enter their Names with the Undertaker ſome Time before the End of this Month.
